Selling on Beepz

Sell for more: average of 70% above market value

Sell fast & empty your lot in days, not months

Make more on returns: each return = new earnings

Full protection: from damages, repairs, and non-payments

How?

Beepz doesn't check credit or ask for a down payment

For this reason, buyers are happy to pay a higher total

Many buyers apply for delivery or rideshare jobs the same day

If the payment is 48 hours late: The car stops until week is paid

If the payment is 5 days late: The car is returned to you (upon request)

Every seller wins with Beepz

Opt-in for our Beepz Seller Protection Plans

Worried about damage on returned cars?

You can opt into an optional protection plan, paid weekly from your payout, you can also factor the cost into your car's price so the buyer ends up covering it.

- $18 per week - Seller Theft protection
- $25 per week - Seller Theft + repairs protection

Beepz also verifies the buyer's full-coverage insurance monthly.

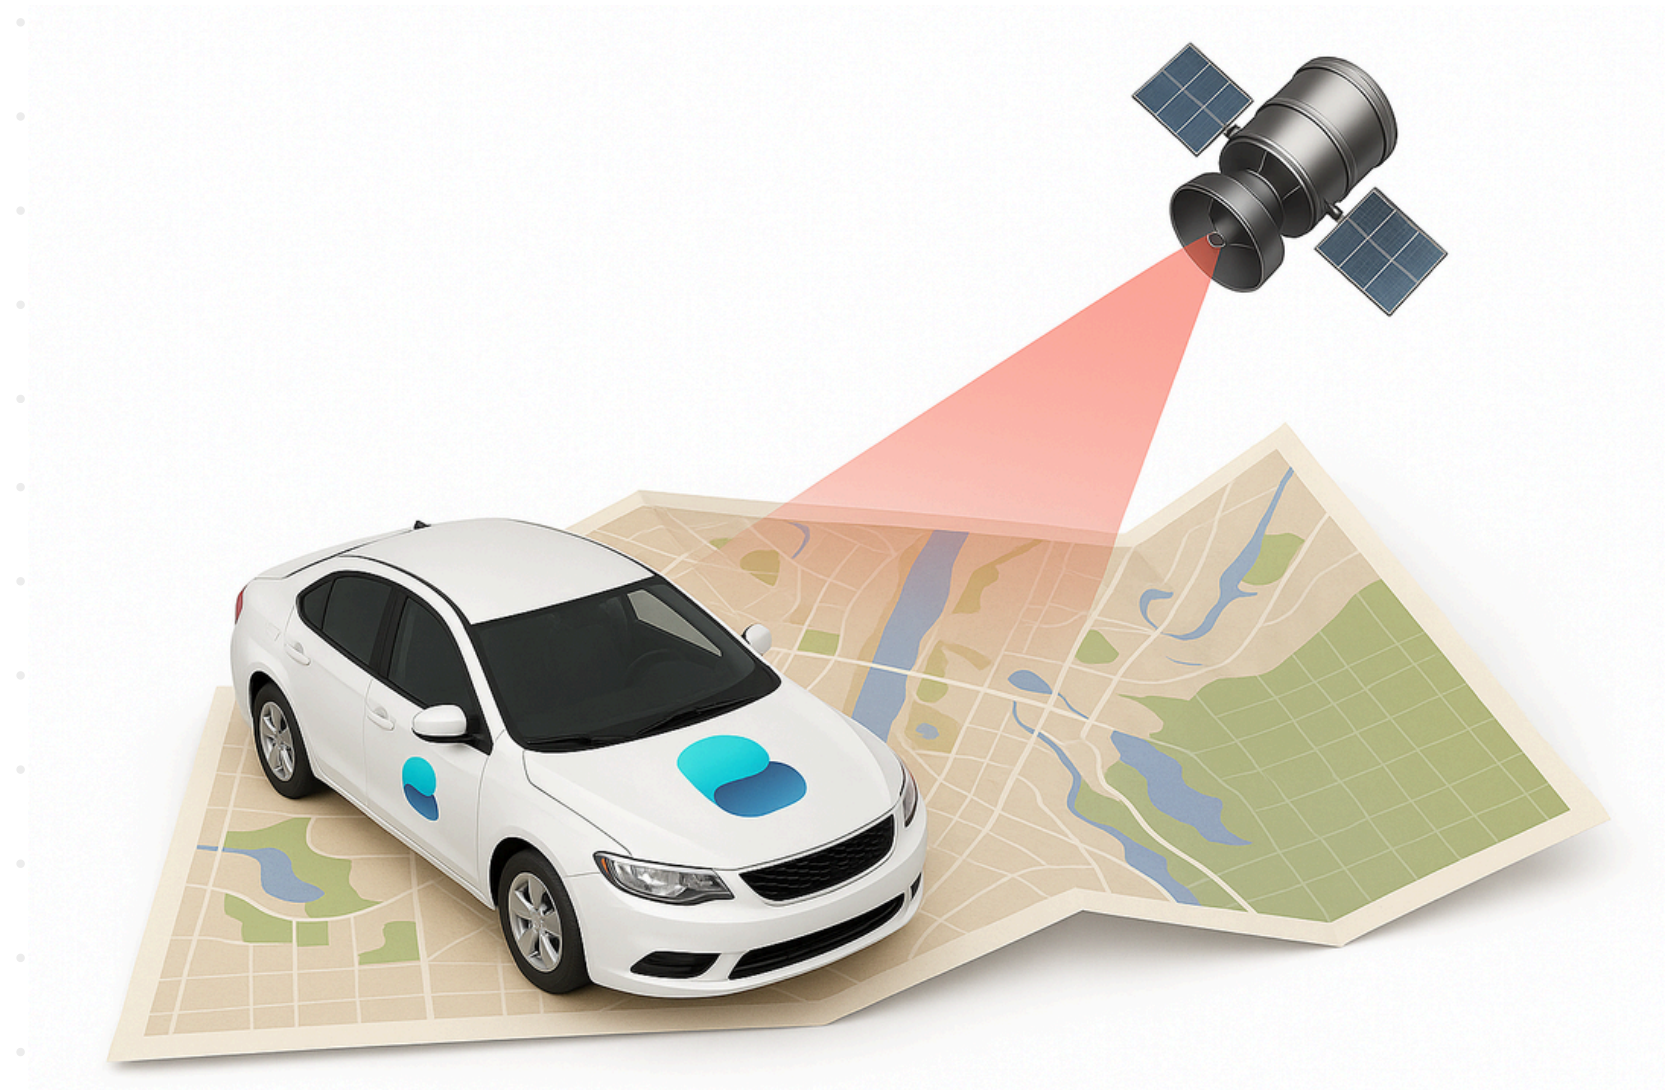

No Pay? Car Missing? No Problem.

We Track & Repossess instantly

If a buyer stops paying or disappears with your car, our tracking system locates it—even across borders!

We'll repossess it so you can sell it again.

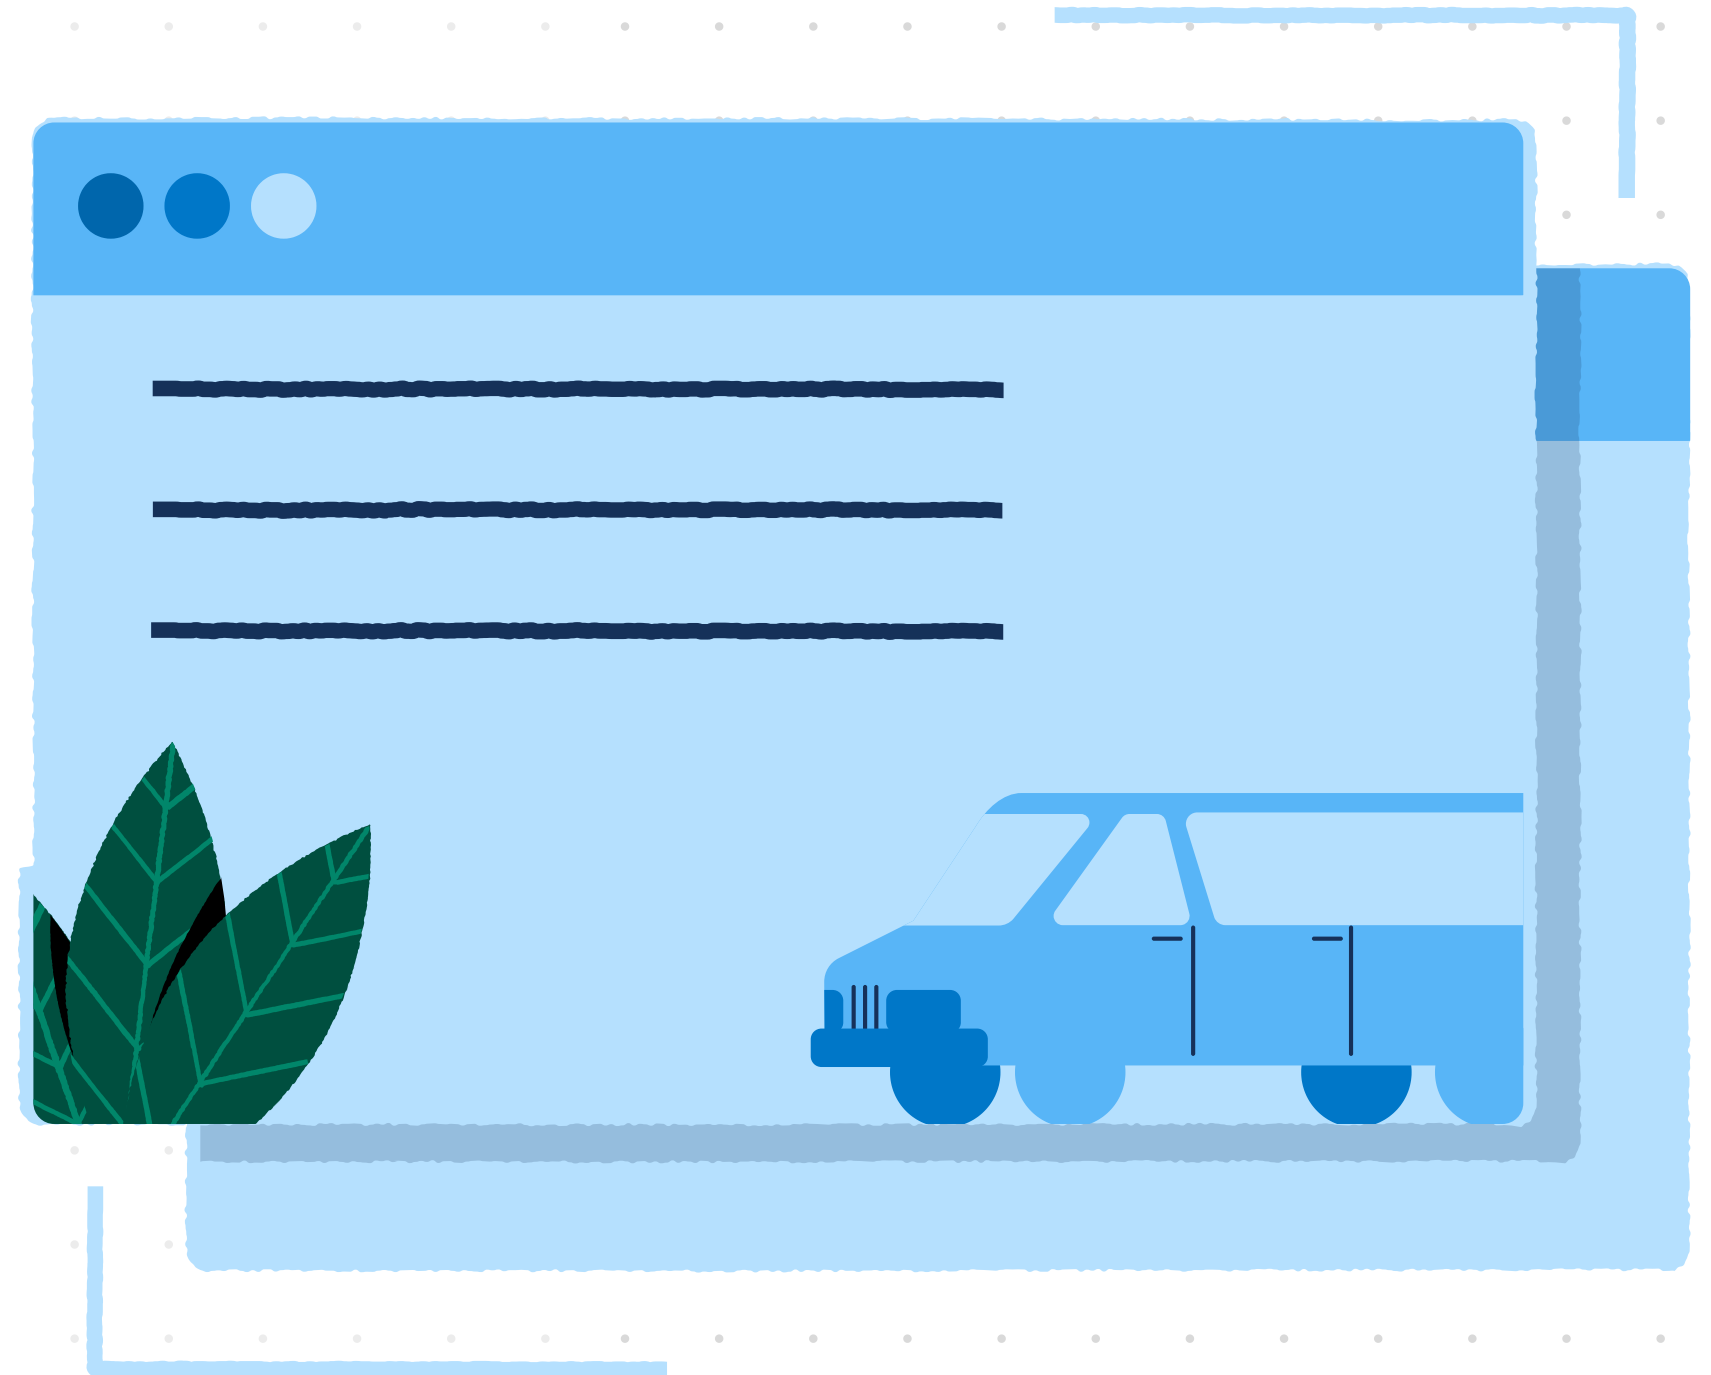

DMV made easy

When a payment plan starts, Beepz provides the buyer with a temporary registration.

The seller remains the legal owner and is listed as the lienholder, while the buyer is listed as the registered owner.

This means:

- You keep ownership until the car is fully paid off.
- The buyer takes responsibility for any road-related issues, including parking tickets, tolls, and violations.
- Your position as lienholder protects you from any delinquencies during the plan.
